-Much excitement still prevails in San Francisco about the silver mines of New Mexico, which are said to be the richest in the world.

-Dr. Paul F. Eve, the distinguished surgeon, late of St. Louis, has accepted a professorship in the Medical University of Nash--The Spanish steamer Sancti Spiritus while on her first trip from Havana, after receiving new-bollers, was lost on the Cayo Piedras, off the Cuban coast. Her crew were saved. -The Fenian Colonel O'Neil is said to be

-The land sales of the Union Pacific Railroad are now averaging nearly forty thousand dollars a month. The total sales to date amount to about eight hundred thousand dollars. The average per acre is about four dollars and a half. These facts show that the restriction Congress proposes to apply to the lands of the Northern Pacific, at two dollars say, that commodious buildings are to be and a half per acre to actual settlers, is rather erected on the Washington Race-Course,

One of the remarkable features of the dation for all. bill is contained in the 8th section, which gives the United States marshals the power to call on the land and naval forces of the United States to assist them in case of resistance. Even Republican members of the House declare that this provision is such a palpable violation of the constitution, that they will not vote for it. A modified bill, merely imposing pains and penalties, for preventing colored persons from voting, is likely to come out of this disagreement between the two houses. -The Saturday Review, speaking of Mr. Bright's "Women's Disabilities Bill," says: "It is nonsense to ring the changes on Florence Nightingale and Harriet Martineau, when what is meant is women in the consultingroom and dissecting-room, women in Parliament, women in the pulpit, women at the bar, women on the jury, women free, not only to contract, but to dissolve the marriage tie as they please. And it is not so much nonsense, as something worse than nonsense, to say that because we do not permit women to go to the polling-booth, therefore, in England, we only class them with felons, idiots, lunatics, outlaws and minors. Mr. Jacob Bright has often avowed that he wants to assimilate our sociastate to that happy land, the home of free love and the Sorosis; but to assist this blessed state of things, it is simply dishonest for any one to say that English women are now no better off evade doing military duty, which is incompat ible with their religious tenets, have made arrangements for emigrating in mass to this country, and are now in treaty for the purchase of large tracts of land in Tennessee. This sect, which is more nearly allied to the Baptists than any other Christian church, though it baptizes by sprinkling, was organized in Holland by Menno Simonis, early in the sixteenth century. Driven thence by persecution, many of them were attracted by liberal inducements offered by Frederick the Great to settle in the valley of the Vistula, where, by dint of ditching, dyking and draining, after the manner of their native land, they transformed a district of some 180 miles of swamp into the most fertile spot in Germany. Their number in Germany in 1856 was stated at 18,-000; of those in this country-most largely in Pennsylvania-we have no more recent date than the census of 1860 affords, which gives their number at 36,280; and it is stated that they now number throughout the world not less than 200,000-the great mass of the sect being in Holland and Russia.

Robbing Peter to Pay Paul.

It is rumored in Radical circles that the Scott Ring are well satisfied with the proceedings in Judge Melton's Court in regard to the attempted issue of four million dollars of guaranteed bonds of the Blue Ridge Railroad. The Ring hint that the whole movement is a political dodge of the Reform party, who are, according to the Radical oracles, striving to prove the State endorsement of the Blue Ridge Railroad bonds unconstitutional, because the success of the great work would be a crowning glory to the present administration. This is very funny, but, from the Scott stand-point, perfectly natural.

The motion for an injunction to restrain the issue of the Blue Ridge bonds was made by private citizens of the State, who took interpreted by the legal lights of the administration party. There was no party feeling in the movement, nor have the Opposition press made it a sectional or political reason for the commencement of the proceedings, although that reason may not be appreciated by the ruling clique and their

The endorsed bonds of the Blue Ridge Railroad Company were about to be put on the market as bonds for whose payment, principal and interest, the State of South Carolina is responsible. It had been announced over and over again that the General Assembly had no power to saddle upon the State such a liability. But the bonds were about to be issued, and in order that Northern or European capitalists might not be swindled, in order that the good name of the State might not be imperilled, a case was made, under the constitution, to test the validity of the issue. This was the sole purpose of the application for a temporary injunction to restrain the issue of the bonds, which injunction, at the close of the arguments, was granted by the court.

We know that the people of the up-coun try desire the completion of the Blue Ridge Road, but they do not-whatever a few speculators may do-wish to excavate its tunnels or spike its rails with money filched from the pockets of the Northern or European public. This may be sentimentalism, but it is true, nevertheless.

A member of the Scott Ring would pooh! pooh! these fine scruples, saying: "Get your money first, and talk about the 'honesty of it afterward!" But this is not the principle of action of the Reform party or of the up-country of South Carolina.

As already announced, the South Carolina Institute intend holding a Fair in the vicinity of this city, about the 1st of November next, where will be exhibited specimens of the handiwork of our citizens in every department of the mechanic and fine arts, from the great iron automaton, the steam engine, to the delicate tinted photograph; and where will contend, in honorable rivalry, every variety of agricultural production, from the snowy locks of king cotton and the silverhaired ramie, to the humble ruta baga and tiful contributions of household economy and domestic industry, wrought by the fairy fingers of our noble women; and doubtless, too, we shall find there a great variety of live stock, from the spirited thoroughbred to the sturdy roadster; from the short-horn Durham to the Ayreshires, Merinos and South Downs, Irish graziers and Chester whites, game fowls and Brama Pootras. And then there will be fast teams and slow teams, subsoils and twisters, Roller gins and Gullet gins, sewing machines and pianos, jewels of silver and jewels of gold, and the thousand other beautiful and curious and ingenious things not yet thought of. And, they below than above the prices of the other road. and that arrangements will be made to take The bill which passed the Senate yesterday visitors to the grounds by railroad. And that there will be a tournament, and that gallant knights will enter the lists from far and near, and that there will be handsome

Moving On !

Sales-day in June being apparently the most generally convenient time for holding county meetings, we suggest that the remaining counties give notice at once that they will appoint their delegates on that

The number of delegates appointed in Charleston was equal to double the representation of the county in both branches of the General Assembly. In order that the Convention may be both large and influenstress of a recent addition to Prussian military tial, our sister counties are invited to aplaw which renders it impossible for them to point delegates on the same basis.

· Plain Talk.

Senator Cain tells the Scott Ring that they needn't try to coax or bully him into silence, adding significantly that he knows and could reveal enough of their transactions "to hang "them." (Italics his, not ours.) This is strong language, but we believe it to be the truth, nevertheless. It may be that Senator Cain could throw some light on the mystery of the murder of Randolph, the motives for the deed, and the men who really did it.

The following call is published in the Columbia Guardian of yesterday: "The citizens of Levington, white and colored, who are opposed to high taxes and in favor of an honest and economical administration of the State Government, are respectfully invited and requested to meet en masse in the courthouse on Monday, the 6th day of June next. The object of the meeting will be to select delegates to attend the convention of the Citizens' Reform party, which will meet on the 15th of June next, at Columbia.

"This notice is given after consultation with and at the request of prominent men from all sections of the county. We urge upon the people the importance of this move, and hope that each neighborhood will send at least one representative man. Remember that this is the beginning of the fall campaign, when it is hoped that all honest men, white and black, will unite in relieving the State from that official corruption which is now so injurious to the good and virtuous of all classes and conditions."

THE Suedlicher Correspondent, of yesterday, asks why THE News has made no comment on the letter of Colonel D. Wyatt Aiken, published in our columns a few days ago. We answer that THE NEWS has already given, quite as plainly as our German contemporary, its opinion of the peculiar views their stand upon the State Constitution, as expressed by Colonel Aiken in the Immigration Convention. Common justice demanded that we should also print anything that Colonel Aiken might have to say, if he conceived himself to have been misunderstood, question. There was, however, a good misrepresented or wronged in any way. This done, we do not see that any good end was to be served by further 'discussion of an utterance which had given offence to thousands of our best citizens. Nor do we fear that the Germans of South Carolina will have any doubts as to the position or sentiments of THE CHARLESTON NEWS.

> READ our special dispatches from Columbia in THE News of this morning. Criminals elsewhere, we fancy, will learn with envy how easily their brethren in South Carolina manage to go Scorr-free!

The Magazines.

The June number is fresh, lively and full of nterest. Charles Reade's Put Yourselt in his Place is continued. The plot is more and nore entangled, and the end seems to be afar off. Mrs. Preston has a tender poem called Fra Angelico. Next comes an article on tobacco smoking, which will make the blood of a veteran smoker run cold. Justin McCarthy has an article on American men and English men. It would have been better to learn something about the millions of Southerners before writing this article. There is no South within the range of Mr. McCarthy's vision. The scandalous articles on Rome are continu ed. These must be highly edifying to the Catholic readers of The Galaxy. Keeping the Cash and Two Women are good sketchy stories. Mr. Thurlow Weed's Reminiscences of the Rebellion are well worth reading, and the same may be said of Judge Black's Defence of Edwin M. Stanton. Mark Twain's Memoranda are full of fun and sense.
